Our School

Asia Singapore International School (ASIS) Khon Kaen is a Singapore international school that focuses on children's holistic development.

In ASIS, we will develop every Thai and international student to become future leaders who are poised to be game changers, innovators and global thinkers.

We will prepare them well for the VUCA (volatile, uncertain, complex and ambiguous) world.

We are an educational research and teachers' training institute, diving deep into how students learn and fail. Our teaching and learning are guided by the curriculum framework - content (what should be taught), pedagogy (how to execute the lesson and engage students) and assessment (how to measure students' learning).

“

In ASIS, every child is precious, talented and can succeed.
